

Aligning IT with business goals through
GRC-driven approach

BROCHURE

Enterprises need a well-defined strategy to stay secure and manage risks, for which an efficient GRC (Governance, Risk, and Compliance) structure is the key.

To operate effectively and earnestly, organizations require specialized GRC capabilities with explicit features. The GRC solution offerings from NSEIT are designed to gain visibility across your on-premises and cloud operations, while providing an enhanced assessment of the key services. With a customized approach tailored to your needs, you get a better hang of the current state of critical factors impacting your organization, which include your infrastructure, applications, assets, threats, risks, and vulnerabilities.

Our Solution

NSEIT provides platforms that leverage big data, collecting a variety of data from various IT operations tools and devices to automatically spot and react to issues in real-time, while still providing traditional historical analytics.

Solution Framework

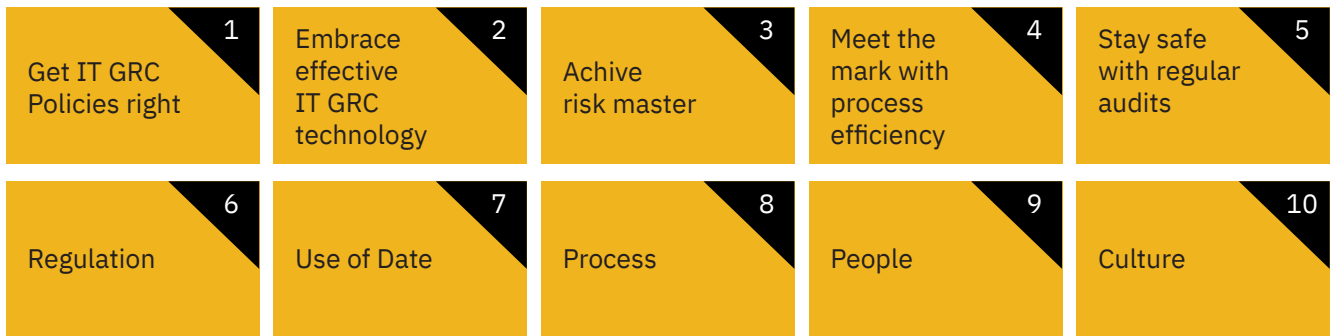

Enterprises are often faced with various service-related challenges such as increased service complexity, and escalating service expectations. Managing torrents of data is equally difficult with numerous alerts being issued every moment. Fragmented and increasingly borderless IT makes it even tougher, with little or no margin for error.

To address these ever-growing issues, you need a reliable and stable GRC platform that is available and accessible across the departments. The GRC solution framework from NSEIT not only reduces fragmentation and division among departments, but also essentially eliminates the silos. It also provides an easy, reliable approach to filter and analyze the alerts, with minimal errors. The upshot is a series of tangible advantages such as improved decision-making, enhanced transparency and reduced cost, which together allow for more optimal investment in IT, while ensuring genuine returns.
